Specialist Services

As a fully BBC trained Broadcast Engineer & Editor, we have the highest technical and production standards.

We have designed and built channels, studios, outside broadcast units and edit suites all over the world.

We teach and train at local colleges and universities
(We trained 67 ITV journalists to edit and present their stories for transmission!)

We can create specialist web sites for Business TV programme delivery with unique custom-made player interfaces.

DVD authoring and specialist encoding are just some of our services.
